FAILING GRADES POLICY

Any of the following may result in a failing grade in an ADN course:

1. Failure to attain at least a grade of "C" in a nursing course based on the ADN grading scale; select nursing courses require an exam average of 80% before other assignments are added to the final grade and overall grade must be 80% (see course syllabus).

2. Failure to meet clinical performance expectations and requirements

3. Failure to complete all course requirements

4. Academic dishonesty

5. Failure to meet all safety precautions

6. ADN students are required to obtain a grade of "C" or better based on the ADN grading scale in ADN program courses and the College grading scale for prerequisite and elective courses.

All required coursework from each semester, including semester-required science and general studies courses, must be successfully completed before the student may take coursework from subsequent semesters.
